FARNELL HACCP / PACsecure CERTIFIED

As food companies come under increasing pressure to ensure the integrity of their Quality Assurance Programs, external resources (vendor best practises) become a critical element to their success.

How many times have we heard, “you are only as strong as your weakest link”. Farnell Packaging Limited’s globally recognized Quality System, ISO9001:2000, has been strengthened with HACCP/PACsecure (hazard, analysis, critical, control, points) CERTIFICATION, a systematic preventative approach to food safety used at all stages of food production, including packaging.

Farnell Packaging Limited is the one of the first flexible packaging suppliers to be certified to the new PAC secure/HACCP Standards for packaging materials food safety.

Leading retailers and packaged goods companies are requesting HACCP/PACsecure compliance from suppliers to sure-up their commitment to superior supply chain food safety best practises.

Read more about what leading brand owners have to say about the importance of HACCP/PACsecure Certification by logging on to www.pac.ca, see HIGHLIGHTS sidebar, click on: “NEW” Food Safety Standard for Packaging, and scroll down to: HACCP Compliance.

HACCP/PACsecure Certification one more reason to make Farnell Packaging Limited your flexible packaging supplier of choice.
